

I am attempting to create a slide, shown below, with a Show/Hide Question object that when clicked brings in a rectangle the same size as the slide. The rectangle includes a smaller rectangle containing the text, Type question here.

What I would like to happen is the rectangle containing the smaller rectangle with Type your question here will overlay the slide with the Show/Hide Question rectangle. Currently, the following is what happens when Show/Hide Question is clicked.

Following are screen captures of the Selection pane, Animation pane, and settings.
